Council opts for immediate sidewalk repair, tree trims

Following a plea by Sierra Madrean Alice Morrison to Sierra Madre City Council members to "inspect sidewalk hazards" within the town, the council voted 3 to 2 to instruct City Administrator Jim McRea to tell the city crew to begin immediate sidewalk repairs and de-emphasize street repairs for now.

The Sierra Madre woman explained a large bruise on her face and a cast on her left arm by reporting that she had fallen on city streets because of a ragged city sidewalk.

Mayor Tom Edwards spearheaded the move toward better sidewalks and suggested that meter readers and policemen keep track of possible hazards when they are out on their rounds. He suggested that not only sidewalks should be moni-

Safety program by police, PTAs

A new program — The Block Parent Program — has recently become operational in Sierra Madre and will add an additional safety measure in the prevention of tragedies, says Sierra Madre Police Chief Bill Betts.

"The program is manned by volunteers who work in cooperation, under their chairmen, with the schools and the Sierra Madre Police Dept.," Betts explained.

The program is designed to provide "safe" locations for children to go should they encounter any danger or difficulty when away from school or home, he continued.

The PTAs have been working with the local police department to locate and evaluate locations throughout the community. Locations are identified by the pink and black sign in a front window.

SUPERVISORS OF BLOCK PARENT PROGRAM — Shown are women who are supervising chairmen of the new Block Parent Program recently implemented in Sierra Madre: Karma Bell and Joan Ward from Sierra Madre School, and Sue McCoppin and Sally Crawford from St. Rita's School. Also shown is Sgt. Chris Christensen from the Sierra Madre Police Dept. who has been training the women in their duties.

Mt. Wilson Trail Race set for this Saturday

By Phyllis Chapman

May is a busy month for Sierra Madre and anchoring the month's activities is the annual Mt. Wilson Trail Race.

Being among the spectators for the race means you have to make the effort — especially on a holiday morning when it would be so heavenly to snuggle in bed for a few more hours of luxurious sleep. And this year, because of the earlier starting time — 7:30 a.m. instead of 8 as in past years — it will take even more effort.

But for the fun and excitement it is well worth that extra effort. Also, since the town of Sierra Madre turns out for the annual race, it's a great place to meet and enjoy friends.

This year's race is the 18th Annual Trail Race. It has been run every year without a break since 1966. However, the first running of the race goes all the way back to 1908. There were a few years in between 1908 and 1966 when the event was not held.

The 250 runners will need everyone's encouragement before the starting gun time. The race will get underway when the runners disappear from Baldwin Avenue onto Mira Monte as they head toward the Trail. Ambrose Zaro will initiate the race again with the starting gun.

The record for the race — set in '81 by Steve Chase — is 59:43.5.

Oranges, which are given to the returning runners by the Woman's Club, have been donated by Albertson's Hastings Ranch Market, Howie's Ranch Market, Roess' Market, Sunshine Produce of Monrovia and E. Waldo Ward of Sierra Madre.

Rita Alexander has joined the race committee and will be helping on race day. Her husband's business, Alexander's Tree Service is one of the sponsors. Other supporters of the race are Frank's Fish, Sierra Madre Police Dept., Public Works, Sierra Madre News, Group W, who will be filming for later viewing, The Pasadena Star-News and the Sandwich Stop. Lozano's will serve free coffee.

The Boy Scouts, with leader Goerge Dale, will go up the trail the night before, camp and be ready to dispense drinks of water to runners at two places on the trail.

Sucony has donated the race numbers which are red, white and blue.

The sanction and timing for the race is by The Athletic Congress (TAC). Souvenir buttons are now on sale in local stores and at the News office for $1 each and will also be available on race day. Also available are T-shirts for $8 each.

So, come on, throw back those covers on May 26 and be there. You don't want to miss a Sierra Madre main event.

Under the Pepper Tree

by Jan Reed

● Well, it's struck again — the controversy about whether or not the mountains just above us are the Sierra Madres or the San Gabriels. Recently both Joe Grippi and Ambrose Zaro have brought in what they believe is proof that at one time the mountains were indeed known as the Sierra Madre mountains.

Ambrose said, "According to The Southern Sierras of California by Charles Francis Saunders and according to noted author John Robinson, the San Gabriel mountains were generally known as the Sierra Madre Mountains from 1880 into the 1930s. The U.S. Board on Geographic names in a decision affirmed in 1927 decreed the present name as correct."

As many of you remember, we had an interesting exchange of historical data on this subject passing back and forth in the News about a year ago.

● Has anyone seen Sylvia Pedersen recently? She's Jane Buchan's mother.

Remember when we did a feature story on her a couple years ago when she was only 90 years old? She has been here from Hawaii visiting the family and she is still as young appearing as before.

Griffiths named head coach

Gary Griffiths, a Sierra Madrean for 14 years, has been selected head football coach for Pasadena Schools to succeed Tom Hamilton who is retiring from that position to continue as athletic director and teacher at Pasadena High School.

Griffiths has been co-head football coach for three years and has served with Hamilton for over a decade. Griffiths is also varsity baseball coach and will serve as junior varsity baseball coach.

Griffiths grew up in the Pasadena Schools and played as a student for Hamilton. The new head coach graduated from PCC and Cal State L.A. then did his student teaching at PHS.

He started teaching comparative religions and "The Bible as Literature" in 1970 and was football trainer. Then he served as junior varsity football coach for several years and has been head

Abused News?

Occasionally people complain to us about the general tenor of the news in the larger daily papers these days. They say they get tired of the bad news reported and they argue that the bad news receives precedence over the good news.

We believe that most of the time the dailies report the news as it is, and feature bad news because that's what most of the news happens to be: bad news. They don't make the news; they simply report it.

Let's peruse a daily and look at the overall news: Agent Orange complaints go to trial, brutality suit, wildlife being killed, trials of damage suits are growing part of dioxin exposure, quadriplegic con man, radioactive leak.

Does that sound like bad news? Yes, it does and rightly so. But that IS the news, whether or not readers enjoy it.

Of course, up in Sierra Madre our biggest and most recent flap was a piece a writer for a daily paper completed when she interviewed a city council candidate during the recent council campaign. A real no-no, even though she apologized in a letter to the editor in The News.

Another piece of bizarre news — before we came aboard as publisher — was the exposure of the "pods" that mysteriously appeared early one morning on the city streets. Then there was the plant of some gold in the hills that caused a brief Sutter Mill stampede. Brief but exciting.

And we can't forget the constant changeover of shops in this foothill city — a real worry to city leaders who cast an eye on decreasiong incoming tax reports.

Our biggest news up here is pretty non-violent but that's the news we have that's reportable.

Maybe our community actually is a little "berg" where nothing much happens. There are few bank robberies, child molestation cases, no police brutality cases.

Oh yes, there's lots of gossip and a little bickering. But maybe that's the vehicle that allows us to let off a little steam for the day-to-day calmness that surrounds our lives.

The news here is what it says — what's happening North, East, West, south. Let's hope the tenor of reports in The News remains the same: about as violent as our annual arm wrestling event during our annual hometown activities on July 4.

Protect children

Because hot liquids are the major cause of burns to small children, the Alisa Ann Ruch Burn Foundation has made available a program to educate parents and children on prevention and treatment of burns.

Some of the major rules include tips such as:

- Do not hold children on your lap while serving hot liquids.
- Turn hot water heaters down to the 120-130-degree range.
- Keep small children out of the kitchen when cooking.
- If children are in the kitchen, make sure all handles of pans are turned toward the center of the stove.

I secretly think she's discovered Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth — only it must be located in Hawaii.

- The Sierra Madre News came this close to getting a private interview with Democratic Presidential hopeful Gary Hart. When we were up north recently we had dinner at a place called "Jack's" which I can nominate as one of the best places to eat in San Francisco. When we were seated we noted a table set up but not being used in the busy restaurant.

The waiter explained, "We have had a phone call that Gary Hart is going to arrive for dinner soon." However, we waited out the evening, dallying over our cup of decaf and still no Hart. Too bad, Hart, you missed a golden opportunity.

Perhaps it was just as well though. One of the members of our party had a borrowed red tie decorated with running elephants. The tie — and oversized coat — had to be borrowed from the restaurant since no one may be seated who is sans coat and tie.

It's doubtful Hart would have appreciated dancing elephants.

- D-Day is around the corner — June 6. And since we've moved to California we've heard many "war stories" about blackouts, enemy submarines just off the coast. We even heard that a shell was lobbed onto United States soil up near Santa Barbara. And all this time we were wrapped in our Midwestern cocoon not any closer to the war then the handsome cadets who populated our college campus (and I was too young to date). With Memorial Day imminent, we pause to remember . . .

Thanks for making paper drive successful

We wanted to be sure and thank you for taking the time to call the telephone number recently listed in the Sierra Madre News for the collection of newspaper for the 6th Grade Paper Drive at Sierra Madre School. The 6th graders collected almost 13 tons of newspaper and made over $400 on their drive. Part of the money will be used to pay for a special class trip for the 6th graders to the Ice Chalet in Pasadena.

Thank you again for helping make this trip possible for our graduating 6th graders.

Sincerely yours,

Library Shelf

By leaving The Sierra Madre Public Library a bequest, Clara Sykes made possible the purchase of a variety of new reference books for your benefit, like those listed below:

HORTUS THIRD by the staff of The L.H. Bailey Hortorium at Cornell University is a concise dictionary of plants cultivated in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada. More than 20 years were spent in producing this impressive work.

HALLIWELL'S FILMGOER'S COMPANION by Leslie Halliwell gives movie buffs a wealth of film facts past and present. It includes descriptions of American, English, French, Russian and Italian actors, directors, writers, plus synopsis of selected films and definitions of filmmakers' terms.

THE WORLD ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FOOD by L. Patrick Coyle is a comprehensive, international guide that contains articles on 4000 foods and beverages. The origins, history, lore, and cultivation (or preparation) of each entry are described.

The OCEAN WORLD ENCYCLOPEDIA by Donald G. Groves and Lee M. Hunt provides A-to-Z coverage of the entire spectrum of ocean subjects. It summarizes in clear, lively, non-technical terms the current state of knowledge of the oceans and all related major sciences.

Unhappy about possible ordinance

The following letter was sent to Mayor Tom Edwards with a copy to The News. Ed.

At the Planning Commission meeting May 17 a new ordinance was proposed to ban existing multiple rental units on R-1 zoned lots, this to include all present guest houses, garage apartments, studios and such.

I don't own any rental properties in Sierra Madre but as a taxpayer considering the basic law of right or title by prescription, I can see legal tangles - expensive ones - for the city. Even the picture of a class suit action looms up here.

Certainly current zoning regulations have been sufficient to control future multiple structures in R-1 areas.

Further, this enthusiastic commissioner's classic "1984" plan would include hiring a full-time investigator to ferret out the miscreant landlords and ladies among us and slap large fines on them which in turn would finance his professional snooper. All this has a certain malodorous air of affluent snobbery about it that was not so prevalent in our city until quite recently.

Let's get back to common sense and fair play.

Nurses' Day is fun

William White, M.D., chief of staff serving as spokesperson for the medical staff, handed the nurses a carnation and thanked them personally for their efforts on behalf of the hospital at the annual Nurse's Day activities at Methodist Hospital of Southern California recently.

A special cake, punch and coffee was served by the administrative staff. Night shift nurses were feted from 3 to 5 a.m. with the administrative, nursing staffs and Dr. White assuming the same hosting responsibilities as in the daytime celebration.

As nurses gathered intermittently in Lewis Hall for the 1 to 5 p.m. open house, they were asked to place a star on a large map of the world designating where they received their nurses' training.

"It was a day of fun, camaraderie and reminiscence," said Darlene Werner, RN, nursing director, "and an opportunity to say 'thank you' to nurses on the staff."

La Salle newspaper takes top honors

The Lance newspaper of La Salle High School recently earned enough points to receive a 1st prize designation in the American Scholastic Press Association contest. Over 500 publications were entered in this year's contest.

The American Scholastic Press Association conducts an annual review and contest for scholastic newspapers. Each newspaper is rated on a point score system. Prizes are awarded depending on the number of points earned. The local paper was in the category of 850-900 points.

General areas judged included content coverage, general plan, page design, editing, art and creativity.

Mrs. Barbara Talavan, the paper's moderator said, "This is a notable achievement for the Lance when you consider that the newspaper is an extracurricular activity and many of the staff members have little to no journalism experience."

Language field day at Pasadena High School

Tips, Tales & Tantalizers

The other morning after having listened to the weather report, I dressed accordingly — for high clouds and upper 70s temperature. On the way to work a flash bulletin came over the radio saying the report had been updated and today's high would reach 100! Naturally I had worn a wool sweater.

You would think that with over 1500 atmospheric readings, 40,000 global observations, 2000 messages from airplanes, ships and various satellite photographs — and all the data being put into a super computer, that this scientific approach to weather predicting would be more predictable. (It's amazing that the weathermen get it right as often as they do.)

Back in colonial days, people turned to nature for the weather forecast. If a donkey brayed, or cows refused to go to pasture, or if bats flew into your home, it would surely rain.

People in Germany and Austria often would keep a frog and a little ladder in a jar filled halfway with water. If the frog stayed in the water, it would rain. If the frog climbed up the ladder, the sun would shine. They not only had their weather forecast, but a pet as well.

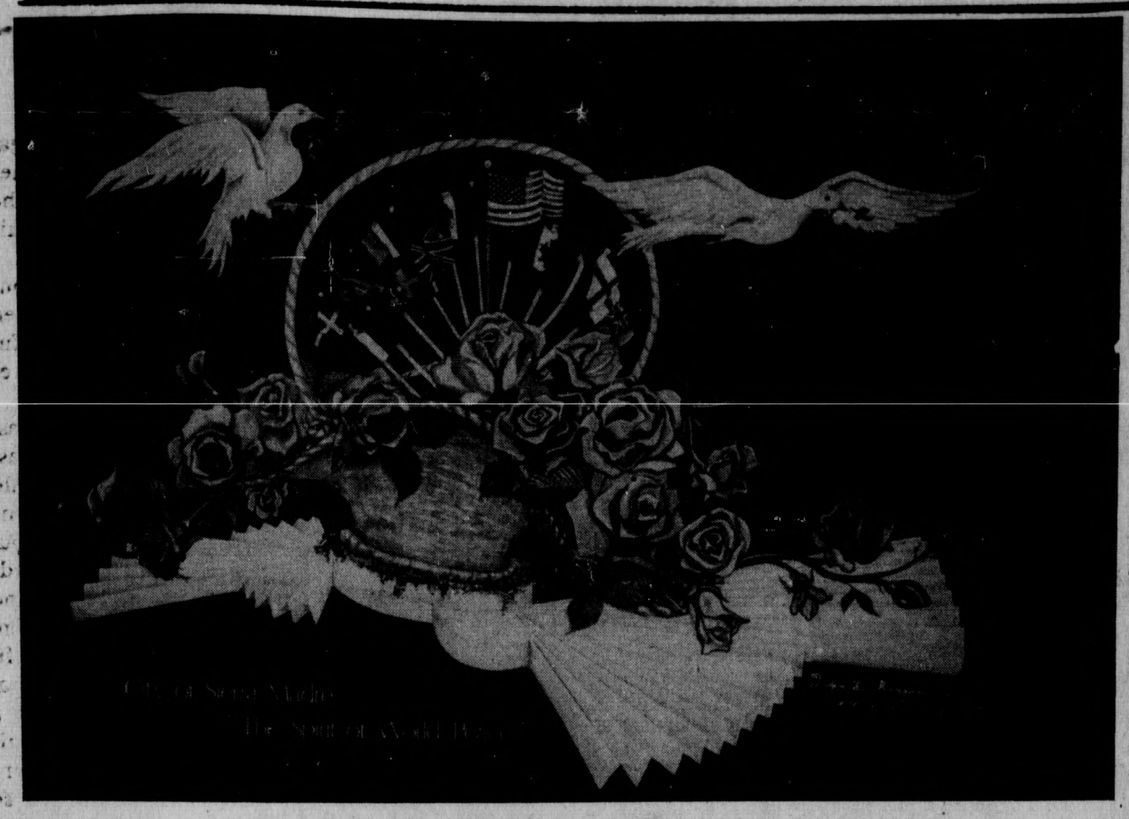

To get the temperature the next day, people often would sit on their verandas at night, count how many times a cricket chirped in 15 seconds, and add the number 37. It is said that this method really worked.

One "modern" prediction of a favorite weather forecaster of mine always predicts (when he doesn't know for sure) "there's a 50% chance of rain, and/or a 50% chance of sunshine."

However, my mother always says, "Whether it's cold, or whether it's hot, we shall have weather, whether or not!"

Planning commission suggests tougher fines for 'illegal' rentals

By Fred Wesley

The Sierra Madre Planning Commission members had a busy evening at their regular meeting May 17, considering eight applications in public hearings and discussing possible solutions to the problem of illegal rentals in R1 (single family) residentail zones.

Following a motion by Commissioner Stan Hutchinson, the commission instructed City Administrator James E. McRea to prepare an ordinance that would impose fines for illegally renting a second unit on property zoned R1. Hutchinson suggested that a fine of $500 initially and $500 per month could be used to pay for a part-time "code enforcement officer."

The commission for the third time continued the public hearing for variances and a conditional use permit for a condominium development at 381 Mariposa Avenue. The applicant, P. Humason, had requested four variances to develop a 4-unit project. Several commissioners expressed their concern with the variance for lot coverage.

Three applications for variances in the canyon were considered. The commission granted variances to Dennis Manning for a lot split at 10 Vista Circle and to Mark Beckwith for a garage at 789 Brookside Lane. The hearing for a front yard variance for Charles and Caroline Beard at 509 Brookside Lane was continued after the commission redefined the location of the front yard for the irregularly-shaped lot, located between Brookside and Canyon Crest Drive.

In other action, the commission granted a variance for street frontage for a 3-parcel boundary adjustment at 334 N. Lima Street and turned down a request for two variances from Robert and Christine Benitez, 529 W. Highland Avenue for conversion of a garage into a game room, work for which had already commenced without benefit of a permit.

Float design is by Benson women

By Bill McCullagh

It may not be January, 1985, yet but plans are already being made to make sure that the city of Sierra Madre will be properly represented in the annual Tournament of Roses parade.

At the last meeting of the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association, the design entered by Tensie Benson and Cynthia Benson (a mother-daughter design team) was picked to be the 1985 entry by the association. This "mother-daughter" team has been active in the float design and construction work for the local float for many years.

Last year Cynthia's design, submitted along with Ty Adams, was picked for the 1984 entry. Tensie Benson has been very active in the floral area of float work and served last year as floral director. This year she will again accept that responsibility.

The design, pictured nearby, in bright and vivid colors depicts the "Spirit of World Peace." Colors in the flags of countries throughout the world will brighten the float with its large basket of red roses and white doves, a well-known symbol of peace.

This might be called "The Woman's Year" of the association since, for the second year, Ginny Liskow is president, Cynthia and Tensie Benson are providing the design, and Wendy Jansky has been named driver of the float as it makes its way down Colorado Blvd. next Jan. 1, 1985.

The "men of construction," including Frank Ross, Lee Elswood, Pete Gonzales, Norm Morrison and Roy Estoppey, are awaiting the blueprints, so that actual construction can be planned and materials ordered.

Local residents interested in joining the Rose Float Association are invited to the next regular meeting on May 28 at 8 p.m. in City Council chambers.

July 4 meeting May 30

The next meeting of the July 4 committee is May 30, 7 p.m., at the Hermosa House which is located just behind the Sierra Madre Community Health Center (formerly the hospital).

Tumilty participates in Legislative Day

Mary D. Tumilty, City Librarian of Sierra Madre Public Library, was one of more than 150 librarians, library administrators and Friends of the Library who called on their legislative representatives in the Third Annual Legislative Day for the California Library Association, Wednesday, May 16.

Tumilty called upon Richard L. Mountjoy, minority caucus chairman, to present informational materials about the need for continued library funding, and to thank the legislators for their support during the last session. Following a briefing at the California State Library, Tumilty and associates kept appointments with representatives from each individual district to explain current activities of librarians in the state, county and city systems, and to urge support of bills favorably affecting grants .

Memorial commission invites ideas, funds

A recently established Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission is authorized by Assembly Bill 650 (Assemblyman Richard E. Floyd) recently signed into law by Governor Deukmejian.

The commission has been charged with responsibility of selecting a suitable memorial to honor all those Californians who served and died during the war in Vietnam. The memorial will be located in Capitol Park in Sacramento.

Both contributions and design entries should be sent to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission, P.O. Box 1559, Sacramento, CA 95807.

Kneale receives honors

Kenneth Kneale Jr. a University of the Pacific student from Sierra Madre, has been elected president of Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity.

Kneale, a senior majoring in business with a concentration in finance, is the son of Kenneth A. Kneale and Mrs. Lani Exton and a 1980 graduate of La Salle High School.

There are eight social fraternities, with approximately 500 members on the Pacific campus.

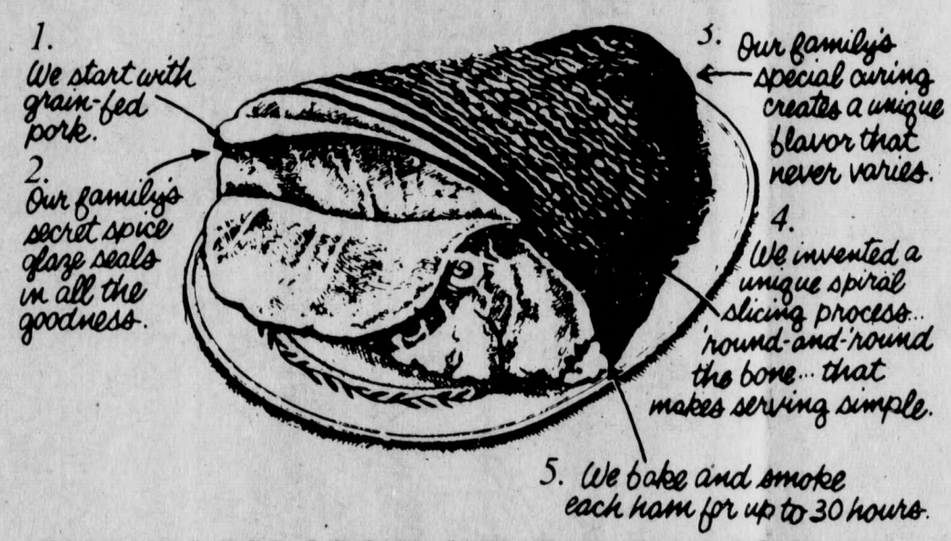

Kneale is among 60 University of the Pacific students selected for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national scholastic honor society.

He was selected for the organization on the basis of academic excellence. Up to the top 10% of the graduating class is eligible, along with selected junior class students.

Marshal to ride in 1909 Buick

When Sierra Madre July 4 Parade Grand Marshal Harry Martin rides down the parade route, his transportation will be about the same age as he is. Martin will ride in a 1909 Model 14 Tourabout Buick owned by Francois Theroux of Sierra Madre.

Martin will also wear a duster from the era as will the car owner and driver, Theroux, who even has boots made in 1910 as well as goggles and caps.

The Buick, a feisty old "brassy," was owned originally by the Rev. Philippe Auguste Jouvin, priest of a church in Skowhegan, Me. However, the priest died only 15 days after taking delivery of the auto. After his death, the car went to the priest's sister, Omeril, and she had it transported to the family estate in Quebec. She had a building constructed solely for the car and the Buick was not driven for 30 years.

When Omeril Jouvin died in 1940, the Buick began passage through a procession of hands, from a hotel owner to a police officer, Buick dealer and others before finally being purchased by Theroux.

Theroux has written a book about the Buick that is called "Buick, The Golden Era, 1903-1915." He is a foreign language instructor who formerly taught French at PCC and is presently with Pasadena City Schools. He was married last year to Diana Lynn Dewey of Altadena.

Plans for the parade are being led by Jerry Adkins for the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the July 4 activities. Frank Van Dongen, president of the chamber, is chairman of all the July 4 events.

Adkins cautions the community: "If you have not yet put in your application for participation in the parade, please do so because we want this parade to be the biggest and best ever. All private citizens, civic and commercial organizations are invited. Applications are available at the chamber office at 245 W. Sierra Madre Blvd."

Green rain

It sometimes rains frogs. Scientists say that frog eggs can be sucked up from rivers and lakes into the atmosphere by whirlwinds. The eggs hatch, and when the wind is spent, they drop to the earth as full-fledged frogs.

Coast to coast

Americans were able to travel coast-to-coast by bus for the first time in 1928. The trip went from Los Angeles to New York.

Coined phrase

Martha Washington's silver service was the source of the silver that went into the first U.S. coins.

Coordinating Council invites new members

The 1983-84 Arcadia Community Coordinating Council year will come to a close on Monday, June 4, when outgoing president, Yvonne Henriks, will install next year's officers.

The Coordinating Council is currently seeking donations from the community to provide a summer camping experience for local youngsters who need financial assistance. Tax-deductible donations should be mailed to the Arcadia Campership Fund, Arcadia Coordinating Council, P.O. Box 813, Arcadia, CA 91006.

The Coordinating Council meets monthly from October through June for its noon luncheon in Fellowship Hall, Church of the Good Shepherd, 400 West Duarte Road, Arcadia. Any representative of a service club, civic group, agency or interested individual is welcome to attend. The cost is $3.75 and reservations can be made by calling Helen Baird at 447-2159 or Muriel Wood at 447-0184.

Doll collection shown

An opportunity to take a nostalgic step back in time will be offered when the Arcadianns' Philanthropy section stages an exhibit of "Yesterday's Dolls" in the auditorium located on the second floor of Hinshaw's Department Store in Arcadia.

Chairwoman, Dee Niver, assisted by Fran Sawtelle, has planned the show for Thursday, May 31, 11 a.m. - 5 a.m. Admission will be a tax-deductible donation of $2 for adults and 50 cents for children. All proceeds from the event are to be donated to one of the several local charities supported by the club, the recipient to be announced at a later date.

Thompson in seminars

Anita Thompson of Sierra Madre, English instructor at Temple City High School, will be among 20 participants in UCLA's first Advanced Writing project to be held June 18-July 13. She was chosen from participants in the Invitational Writing Projects which have been held at UCLA since 1977.

The English instructor will also be one of three UCLA representatives and the only secondary school representative from UCLA to be a part of the Arco Writing Institute for experienced teachers.

At the second conference, 25 teachers will work at the U.C. Conference Center in Arrowhead Aug. 2-12 to address issues in English as a second language and bilingual literacy and proficiency. These professionals are selected from six sites of the national writing project and their task will be to create a curriculum portfolio for grades K-14 of the best ideas available for teaching language-minority students.

Food for Thought

Margo Kidushim

featured on "AM Los Angeles," "Hour magazine," "Eyewitness News," "Your New Day."

Speaking of divine desserts, how about this one?

Lime & Kiwi Angel Pie

- 1¼ C sugar
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 4 eggs, separated
- ½ C water
- ¼ C lime juice
- 2 tsp. grated lime peel
- Green food coloring
- 1 baked 9" pastry shell
- 1 C cream for whipping
- 2 Tblsp. confectioners' sugar

Combine ½ C of the sugar, gelatin, salt and vanilla in top of a double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly in a small bowl; stir in water and lime juice; stir into gelatin mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, over simmering water, 10 minutes or until gelatin dissolves and mixture coats a metal spoon. Strain into a small bowl; stir in lime peel and a drop or two of food coloring to tint green. Chill, stirring several times until as thick as unbeaten egg white. In a large bowl beat egg whites until foamy white and double in volume. Sprinkle in remaining ½ C sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating all the time until the meringue stands in firm peaks. Place bowl of meringue in a pan partly filled with ice and water. Fold thickened gelatin mixture into meringue until mixture mounds on a spoon. Spoon into pastry shell; chill 3 to 4 hours or until firm. Just before serving, beat cream and sugar until stiff in a medium-sized bowl. Spoon over filling. Sprinkle with grated lime peel. Pipe whipped cream in a circle around pie. Arrange alternate slices of kiwi and lime in the cream circle. Makes 9-in. pie.

Shinnick-Hoehne wedding Apr. 21

Mary Therese Shinnick, daughter of Don and Mary Grace Shinnick of Sierra Madre, and Ted Albin Hoehne, son of Mrs. Ulla Hoehne of Sierra Madre, were united in a double ring ceremony Apr. 21 at 11 a.m.

The wedding took place at Bethany Church of Sierra Madre at 11 a.m. Dr. Robert Schaper officiated.

The church was decorated in violet and white and aisles were marked with their bows and swag ribbons. Easter lilies completed the altar decorations.

The bride, the first child in the Shinnick family to be married, chose a white floor-length dress decorated with lace on the bodice and sleeves. The gown was hemmed with detailed scalloped edges of lace. The veil, handmade by the bride's mother, was fingertip length and fell from a flower wreath. The bride carried a small nosegay of roses, white stattice and small mums, held together with lace. White ribbons trailed the bouquet.

Maid of honor was Ann Martin of Los Angeles. Bridesmaids included Anne Marie Stahulak of Chicago, Ill., and Mary Ann Shinnick, Jean Shinnick, Carol and Louise Shinnick, all of Sierra Madre and all sisters of the bride.

They chose pale violet, mid-calf-length taffeta gowns and carried bouquets of purple flowers. Violet ribbons trailed their bouquets.

Phil Carlson of Monrovia was best man. Ushers included Peter Martin of Pasadena, Frank Schwenden of El Monte, Mike Woodcock of Duarte, Dan Martin of Arcadia, and Kevin Shinnick, brother of the bride, also of Sierra Madre.

Mother of the bride chose pink chiffon with beaded decorations for her gown and had a small pink wrist corsage for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink chiffon gown with ruffle trim and had a pink corsage.

The reception was held at Castaways Restaurant in Burbank. Anabelle Anderson was guestbook attendant.

The bride was graduated from Alverno High School and Pasadena City College. She is a teacher's aide at Arcadia Methodist Hospital Nursery School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Pasadena High School. He works on the "Through the Bible Radio" staff in Pasadena.

After a honeymoon at Three Rivers near Sequoia National Park, the couple is at home in Monrovia.

Arcadians clean up cemetery

An Arcadia youth chose the Sierra Madre Pioneer Cemetery for his Eagle Scout project and has spent many hours clearing old shrubbery, pruning trees and raking around plots.

Jeff DePry, 14, is currently a Life Scout in Troop 120 in Arcadia. He and several other Scouts in his troop were here again Saturday with their rakes and hoes, working to renovate the historic Southern California cemetery.

Jeff's dad, Wayne, is also an Eagle Scout and serves as Assistant Scoutmaster in Troop 120. Jeff's brother, Scott, 12, is a First Class Scout in Troop 120.

ARCADIANS CLEAN UP CEMETERY — Arcadia Boy Scouts from Troop 120 take on cleaning up Sierra Madre Cemetery. The following Scouts worked Saturday: Jeff DePry, Peter Hsu, Phil Masto, Kevin Catalfo, Brent Murphy and Josh Catalfo. The boys range in age from 11, 12 and 14 years. Jeff is using the work as part of his Eagle Scout program.

In order to become an Eagle Scout, the Foothills Jr. High 8th grader decided on his Life Scout plan — to plan, develop and give leadership in a service project. He and his friends are working toward that end.

The historic cemetery is made up of an old and new section, the new managed by the Sierra Madre Cemetery Association. In the old section of the cemetery, a number of the graves are overgrown with bushes in keeping with the wishes of the plot owners. Land for the cemetery was donated by Nathaniel Coburn Carter, founder of Sierra Madre.

Members of 12 of the first 17 Sierra Madre families are buried in the Pioneer Cemetery. The first burial was a Civil War veteran, John Richardson, buried in 1884. According to a Sierra Madre Historical Society marker, there are 15 Civil War, eight Spanish American War, 22 World War I and 4 World War II veterans interred there.

Passage builds better 'scooper,' and asks for cleanup campaign

Hubert Passage is a man of action and he has taken up the shovel of war against dog owners who do not clean up after their dogs.

Outside his home he has set up a lighted way station with a sign declaring its purpose, and with a "pooper scooper" which he has made and is giving away in quantity.

Hubert Passage

"I'll make millions on this," he quipped, waving his scooper invention made from half a can nailed to a slat. "And I'm giving them away free. You can see there's great care that's gone into this design," he said as a grin played around his mock-serious face.

Then Passage was serious, "In the municipal code there's a section that deals with anything of a delitorious nature on city property. Have you heard of the burro wars? This is the dog war. I have a dog, too." He held up Sam, his dog, "This is not a rented dog."

He continued, "It's hard to deal with feces unless you get paid for it. This has been gone over before." The News featured several weeks of letters to the editor from those who said they were tired of dogs going to the bathroom on their lawns and from others who said "Much ado about nothing."

Passage said, "We are subject to the whims and fancies of dog owners. If they love their dogs, they should take better care of them and not let them run free. There's a leash law. You need a shovel to cover that one. I've had this property for 24 years and have built it up. I'm 70 years old and my back is going out from lifting all these dog feces. I guess I could quote W. C. Fields who said, 'I love children if they're properly cooked.' I love dogs if they're properly taken care of."

For a look at the doggie way station, featuring a "pooper scooper" and a paper bag partially filled with sand, swing around to E. Mira Monte any time of the day or night.

You might even ask for a free "Passage pooper scooper."

Group W presents health call-in

Group W Cable, Inc. will present the Lifetime Informathon, "Your Mental Health" on Wednesday, May 30, from 4 p.m. to midnight on Channel 15. The eight-hour live program is being produced in cooperation with the Council for Understanding Mental Illness.

"Your Mental Health" will allow Arcadia/Sierra Madre viewers to call a toll-free number, 1-800-828-LIFE, and speak to a team of experts about the issues under discussion.

"Your Mental Health" is not a fund-raiser, but is a consciousness raiser. "Your Mental Health" is a participatory program in which viewers can learn how to recognize the symptoms of mental illness and where to seek assistance.

System Manager Joe Biolsi said, "Your Mental Health is an example of the reason we choose to carry Lifetime on our system. It provides our subscribers with unique programming that can improve the quality of their lives.

Bazzell receives award

Police Officer Rosie Bazzell of the Sierra Madre Police Dept. was one of about 20 persons who received special recognition last Saturday at the San Gabriel Valley Human Relations Committee meeting.

Bazzell received a plaque for her efforts and skills in the training of child abuse and battered woman's programs.

Awards were presented by District Attorney Robert Philibosian. Sheriff Sherman Block attended as did Sierra Madre Police Chief Bill Betts. Ceremonies were held in San Gabriel.

Bazzell has been with the Sierra Madre Police Dept. for almost a decade. Before joining the local police force she was with the Parks and Recreation division of the city. Bazzell was in San Fernando for a year before that.

FOR MEN ONLY

By Joe Delgatto

There are some things in which the women have advanced far more than men.

Take the matter of clothing. Comes the hot weather, you don't see women wearing long woolen slacks, double-breasted woolen suits, collars and ties . . . They're wearing sheer, light colored fabrics — minimum weight and volume. And they're still well-dressed, look cool as a cucumber, smart as a fashion model.

But we're catching up. Manufacturers took pity on us and developed many lightweight, handsome fabrics, so the suits and slacks are considerably improved over a few years ago. And some of the bolder guys are even wearing Bermuda shorts to their offices.

Natually, not all of us can do that. But we can do this:

Buy more carefully. Many suits of lighter weight, less closely-woven fabrics, are tailored just as meticulously, and keep their appearance just as well as the heavier fabrics.

Keep things clean! The newly-laundered shirt, freshly-cleaned and pressed suit, that "from the skin out" feeling of cleanliness and good grooming will go far to make you more comfortable.

Your body will repond to this kind of treatment by keeping about five degrees cooler!

ET nurses honored

Enterostomal Therapy nurses observed National ET Day, May 23. ET Day was held in conjunction with "National Digestive Disease Week," May 20 through 26, to emphasize the important role ER nurses play in the rehabilitation and care of those suffering from digestive diseases.

"ET Day" was initiated in 1983 by the International Association for Enterostomal Therapy to make the general public more aware of the work of enterostomal therapist nurses. Numbering over 2000 nationally, ET nurses have advanced specialized training in the rehabilitation of patients with ostomies, pressure and bed sores, and incontinence.

Cruise is fit for king

There's nothing to compare with a World Class cruise in the Book of Travel.

There are innumerable fine cruise lines, ships and destinations to choose from today. We have sampled four of the top-rated lines — Cunard, Princess, Sun and Royal Viking — and, of the four, our #1 choice would be the World Class Royal Viking, for a 17-day transcanal cruise from Florida through the Caribbean and up the coast of the Mexican Riviera to Los Angeles.

Our ship, the Royal Viking Star, accommodates over 500 passengers. Her crew numbers 300, providing a service ratio of more than one to two.

Activities on board the Star are so numerous you find yourself sprinting from deck to deck and starboard to port to participate in all the interesting items on the daily schedule. We tend to try to partake of everything the first few days and then taper off to a more rational and relaxing approach to life.

Meals are a major production on the Star, supplemented with afternoon tea and pastries and a midnight buffet. A typical breakfast provided choices ranging from good old bacon and eggs to Swedish pancakes with lingonberries or English smoked kippers.

Dinnertime brought agonizing decisions between Coq au Vin or prime Kansas City Steak, Noisette of New Zealand Spring Lamb, Alaska King Crab, Fillet of Beef Wellington or Roast Leg of Norwegian Venison. Adding insult to injury was the dessert menu with choices to be made over Black Forest Cake, Sacher Torte, Baked Alaska or Chocolate Mousse, to name a few.

Norwegian Night, Italian and Mexican Nights, Captain's Welcome and Farewell Nights overwhelmed us with massive smorgasboards, ice and butter sculptures and cuisine presented as decorative works of art.

For those who enjoy high jinks, masquerade and costume nights provided tension and excitement as judging produced proud winners. Those who partook as on-lookers cheered on the innovative contestants. One "costume" included seven bodies in an imaginative serpent creation.

Various amenities aboard the Royal Viking include beauty and barber shops; laundry and valet service, plus self-service washers and dryers; a well-stocked library, mail service and medical facilities. Three-channel radios are included in each spacious cabin, as are a bar and individual lock box. Each day a bowl of fresh fruit magically appears in the cabin, together with an amply-filled ice bucket.

The gift shop features exquisite Scandinavian handicrafts, sweaters and accoutrements, as well as a sampling of intriguing gifts from around the world.

At the end of the voyage, in looking back, we found that what we savor most in memory are the quiet times of gazing into the endlessly fascinating pattern of the waves, toasting a glorious sunset, or watching flying fish and dolphins, diver birds and pelicans cavorting in the seas beside us.

One of the highlights of the voyage was one heavenly night when we sited the Southern Cross, riding majestically amidst strange and beautiful constellations in the southern sky.

The Royal Viking line offers World Class cruises, ranging from two weeks to 88 days, covering destinations around the world. Our cruise also offered indelible treasures of the memory to savor for a lifetime.

Firemen attend 3 weekend fires

Three fires over the weekend kept Sierra Madre Volunteer Firemen busy.

On Friday a stack of logs against a structure at 696 Woodland Dr. caught fire and were extinguished quickly at 10:44 p.m.

Saturday afternoon there was a structure fire at 134 Esperanza that caused $3000 worth of damage, according to Fire Inspector Bill Kramer. Primary damage was to the kitchen since the cause of the fire was the ignition of food that was left on the stove. Firemen spent an hour and 15 minutes at the scene.

Just after midnight, early Sunday, Arcadia was called out for a vehicle fire at marker 24 on Chantry Flats Road. A full brush assignment was called and Sierra Madre, Monrovia, County and the U.S. Forest Service responded to control a brush fire that was caused by the burning vehicle. It is believed the vehicle was abandoned after being stolen, stripped then set afire, according to Kramer. The fire was contained at approximately an acre and a half. Firemen returned to the station at about 2 a.m.

Good cancer news

Here's some good news about cancer. Everyone does not get cancer. In fact, two out of every three Americans will never get it.

Here's some better news: Every year more and more people with cancer are cured. Today, nearly half of all cancer patients can be cured by modern treatment methods.

Here's the best news of all: Every day you can do something to help protect yourself from cancer. The National Cancer Institute has some tips that will help:

- Don't smoke or use tobacco in any form.
- If you drink alcoholic beverages, do so only in moderation.
- Eat foods low in fat.
- Include fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grain cereals in your daily diet.
- Avoid unnecessary X-rays.

Rally for education

A major showing of support of public education will be experienced May 31 at the San Marino High School football stadium. The program begins at 7 p.m. at the stadium located at 2701 Huntington Drive in San Marino.

Anyone who wants to show support for public education — and hear youngsters sing, dance and play in bands — should come and join with the 8000 - 10,000 persons expected to attend.

Bill Honig, state superintendent for public instruction, will make some brief comments, and the event will be hosted by Merlin Olsen, actor and ex-Los Angeles Ram, and Chuck Henry, KABC-TV newscaster.

This is a patriotic rally to generate a lot of support and enthusiasm for public education. It is the hope of organizers to give an indication to the legislators that adequate and permanent financing of our schools is an absolute necessity.

Participating districts are Alhambra, Arcadia, Pasadena, San Gabriel, San Marino, South Pasadena and Temple City.

Huntington Corral plans June 16 meet

The Huntington Corral of Westerners International will hold their monthly luncheon meeting, Saturday, June 16, noon, at Woody and Eddy's Restaurant, with Gary F. Kurutz, California State Library special collections director, as speaker. His title is "Ben Truman, California Booster and Bon Vivant," the subject of his recently-published book.

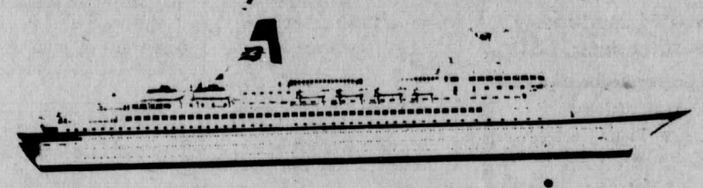

Luncheon reservations are $8.50 each, check payable to Huntington Corral and mailed to Audrey Arellanes, 605 N. Stoneman, Apt. F, Alhambra, 91801 or for further information call (818) 283-1936 (evenings.)

Faith Lutheran

O Lord God Almighty, You are remembered by Your great deeds in the history of the human race. In times of trouble You delivered Your chosen people from the hands of their enemies. For Your great power used in the past and now being used in the present, accept our glorious praise.

We confess, O Lord, that we have not always extolled Your name among our fellowmen. We rejoice in Your mercy which gives us the assurance of the forgiveness of our sins through our Lord Jesus Christ, Who, being righteous, gave His life for us, the unrighteous.

Send us Your Holy Spirit that He may help us to express our love to You in word and deed. May He dwell with us and abide in us that we may walk in newness of life. This we ask in the name of Him Who is the Resurrection and the Life, even Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior. Amen.

You are welcome to join us for worship each Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

SS starts program

Teleclaims service is a procedure by which individuals may telephone any Social Security offices and make an appointment to file their claim. An interviewer will return the call at the appointed time and complete all necessary forms over the phone. The forms will be mailed to the applicant for review, signature and return. In most cases, a visit to the office should not be necessary.

At this time the SS is limiting the Teleclaims procedure to include only claims for retirement, survivor and health insurance (Medicare) benefits. Although they will not use Teleclaims for Disability and SSI claims, they hope to expand the service into these areas in the future.

The special numbers installed in each office for the exclusive purpose of making Teleclaims interview appointments are as follows: Monrovia Office, (818) 303-5213 or Pasadena Office, (818) 796-0296.

An individual should call whichever office he or she finds most convenient. General information or calls for other assistance should be directed to the following numbers: toll free from Pasadena 247-7100; toll free from other areas 575-7963.

United Methodist

The Adult Study Class will meet at 10:45 on Sunday morning in the Lounge. The special speaker, this Sunday, will be Ellen Peterson. ## New Bethany pastor

Bethany Church of Sierra Madre has called Dr. Charles A. Wickman to the post of senior pastor to fill a position that has been open for nearly a year.

Wickman, 51, has been in the ministry for 29 years and comes from Walnut Creek Evangelical Free Church in Northern California. He is vice-president of Trinity College in Deerfield, Ill. and has pastored churches in the Midwest, also.

Wickman graduated from Moody Bible Institute, received his BA from Sterling College, his Master's of Divinity from American Baptist Seminary and his D. Min. from Trinity Divinity School in Deerfield.

tored, but also street trees, curbs and gutters, and tree wells for possible hazards to pedestrians. Councilmembers Lisa Fowler and Sam Simpson joined with "yes" votes.

Councilman Charles Corp voted "no" based on the lack of city money and Councilman Andrew Roy Buchan voted "no" because he believes the project should be deferred until a new city engineer is hired.

Corp and Buchan also voted together when they agreed that the library's request to start work immediately on a two-year-old west walkway project should be tabled "rather than deny it."

And again, the other three councilmembers voted with the Mayor suggesting the matter be placed on the council agenda for the June 12 meeting so the library would have a definite decision. The library had asked for roughly $8000 from the city and agreed to add to that amount about $6000 for the project.

Sierra Madre citizen Jerry Adkins complained about treatment of local clubs and organizations at the recent Friends of the Library Art Fair, stating that out-of-town restaurants were given prize locations even though they were in direct competition with local service clubs.

He noted that the Kiwanis booth selling ice cream and the Civic Club booth selling steak-kabobs were both in the hot sun while competing, commerical non-local restaurants were in the shade with their appliances plugged into the nearby pavilion. Kiwanis Club built the pavilion.

"And the Sierra Madre Historical Soceity — I couldn't find them," he stated.

Mayor Edwards suggested Adkins and others who were disgruntled should take the problem to the Friends of the Library first before complaining publicly.

Bounce checks and you pay thrice

Armed with a new warning decal that will soon appear on shop windows and cash registers across California, merchants will serve notice on people who "pay" for their purchases with worthless checks. The bright red and black decals that cite the state's new bad-check law will be available to all small-business owners by the state's largest small-business broup, the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB/California).

According to Martyn Hopper. director of governmental relations for the NFIB/California members, the sign warns a would-be-bad-check writer of the tougher penalties: "If your check bounces you could be liable for three times the amount of the check or $100, whichever is more," as well as paying court costs. Hopper hopes that the decal warning will make a person think twice before defrauding a store.

For copies of the bad-check warning signs, send requests to P.O. Box 13363, Salem, OR 97309. For more information, contact Martyn Hopper at (916) 448-9904.

Symphony receives grant

The Pasadena Symphony Association received a $1200 grant from the Chevron Fund of the California Community Foundation in December.

The grant will support the Association in presenting Pasadena Symphony concerts. Direct proceeds from the concert ticket sales cover only a portion of the total amount needed to support symphony activities.

From Behind the Wire

by Ed Colucci

Have you ever been glad to get back to work? Well, I am if only to get some rest. Why is it when you take a week off you're more tired at the end of that week than others?

I played in a ball game, went fishing one day, went to Vegas for two days and worked the L.A. Express game on Sunday. We won't talk about the Vegas trip. The fishing trip was fun and the ball game was O.K. We went fishing out of Malibu on the all-day boat and we went for Rock Cod. Now you don't need too many fishing skills to catch those things, but my brother had never fished for them. It was a bright sunny day and the water was smooth. After you let down your line to 300 to 700 feet, you sit back and wait. After you feel five tugs, you start to crank and with any luck you have dinner for that night. It was a nice day. We had a sports weekend that wouldn't quit.

The Dodgers won, the Angels took three from the Yanks and the L.A. Express did the same.

Alverno High didn't fare too well up in Santa Maria. It was a long drive for a softball game and they came up short. So in the C.I.F. Arcadia is out, Alverno is out, P.H.S. is out and the Lady Lancers gave it a good try. An ex-Pasadena American player, Rosisn Courtney, did them in at the end of the game. She threw a three-hitter that was just too much. I always thought she started at P.C.C. but must have moved over to Palomar.

The Minutemen ladies of Maranatha are going into their first round in small schools this week and we wish them well.

Our senior girls were to have started play last Sunday but now the first game is scheduled for this Wednesday night.

There was a practice game between the Sugar and Spikes and the Diamond Dusters last Sunday night and there was a good crowd on hand. I'll tell you, when the local honeys come out, so do the boys. It was a lot of fun.

At the end of May it's "Indy Time." Why do we male machos go a little wako when we see those high powered cars roll up to the starting line? I would love to sit behind the wheel of one of them but then I would just sit there. Years ago there was a race car driver named Barney Oldfield and he set a track record of 55 miles an hour . . .Boy how things change.

See You On The Street

Colts win two

The Sierra Madre Colt program opened their season in exciting fashion this week when Jim Church, backed by an excellent defensive team led by Parry Danne, pitched the locals to a 3-1 victory over Temple City. On Saturday, Steve Owens took the mound against San Marino. The game was close throughout the first five innings, but then the offense took over, exploding to a 10-4 win.

In Pony League action, the Tigers maintained their torrid pace this week by beating the Cardinals and the Giants. Scott Marlow and Tracy Salley picked up the wins as the Tigers elongated their winning streak to five games. Marlow held the Cardinals in check as his teammates provided him with a 7-3 victory. Salley gave up a first inning home run to Jason Hills, but then settled into a groove before giving way to Marlow in the 7th. Although Chris Schnaider hit a two-out homerun, Marlow was able to close the door and record his first save.

In other games this week, the Twins managed a split, beating the Giants 13-1 on Tuesday and then losing to the Dodgers 18-6 on Saturday. Norm Holt earned the Dodger victory on the mound, but was even more impressive at the bat, going 4 for 6, including a double.

SUCCESSFUL PANCAKE FEED — Sierra Madre Athletic Association had another very successful pancake feed at Howie's parking lot Saturday morning. Shown are Cheryl Bowman Pascale, chairman of the arrangements; Karl Duus, manager of Howie's Market; and Jerry Carlton, all hard workers to make the annual fundraiser a success. Howie's donated all the food for the pancake feed.

Invitational lawn bowling June 2

About 200 lawn bowlers from throughout Southern California and central California are expected Saturday, June 2, at the 10th annual City of Hope invitational triples tournament hosted by Santa Anita Bowling Green Club in Arcadia County Park.

A goal of $5000 has been set this year, with all entry fees and donations going to City of Hope Medical Center in nearby Duarte, according to Bob Weitkamp of Pasadena, tournament chairman. The initial tourney in 1975 raised $350. Success of this pioneer charity event in the sport reflects the fact that 40 percent of all players in the nation reside in this area.

Club president Bob Lietz of Alhambra noted that the county's four greens can accommodate 32 triples games simultaneously — involving 192 players. Some individual players choose not to play all games, hence others take their places, boosting the total number involved. Others contribute to the fund and attend, but do not compete.

Ceremonies welcoming the white-clad players wearing the colorful jackets of 20 clubs will start at 9:30 a.m., with the three games starting at 10 and extending into late afternoon. Visitors are welcome to see how the ancient and global game is played.

The greens are at 405 S. Santa Anita Ave., Arcadia, just south of Huntington Drive (near the flagpole).
